

Hillside Farms topic of WVIA show's season finale

The Lands at Hillside Farms is the topic of the season finale of "State of Pennsylvania," at 7 p.m. Thursday on WVIA-TV.

A nonprofit corporation purchased the 412-acre, 19th-century dairy farm in Shavertown, meaning Luzerne County's last remaining processing dairy farm and its historical buildings will not be razed.

Instead, it is a sustainable farming research center, tourist destination and retail source for local products.

Joining Suzanne Kapral-Kelly will be state Rep. Phyllis Mundy, D-120, Kingston; Dr. Doug Ayres, Hillside Farms founder and chairman of the board; Chuck Deome, farm manager, and Matt Deome, a farmer and full-time high school student.

To be part of the live studio audience, call 602-1150 or visit www.wvia.org. Viewers may submit questions during the show at 1-800-326-9842 or on the website.
